The Highland Orphans' Home.

God has been favorable to these helpless orphan children in providing for them not only food and raiment, and a comfortable home and instruction, but in providing for them good matrons to care for them. Miss Nettie Patterson and Miss Charlotte De-Tienno did faithful work in the Home until other interests interposed, when God sent Mrs. Mary E. Hurd, of Canida, a splendid woman, of age and experience, who generously gives her valuable service without compensation, and looks to God for her reward. He will see she does not lose it. She is at present efficiently assisted by Miss Hutchinson, of Clay City, and the children are happy and diligent in their studies. Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Irvin have also, been untiring in their care for these little waifs. We have no place yet for the scores of orphan boys, but are hoping and praying that God will send us the means to provide a home for them.

Will he so honor you?—The Soul Winner.

A Texas Tornado.

In Wise county Texas, March 24, a tornado came and did thousands of dollars damage. It struck the town of Slidell which is a little larger than Clay City and blew down every house in the town but two. Fire followed the wind and burned eight persons while two were killed by the storm. Texas is a fine State and a rich country, but those fearful tornadoes and bad drouths gives us the chills when we think of the many good old Kentuckians there whom we so much admire and love. Some of them may be the victims of the next cyclone. Kansas also had a severe storm on above date doing millions of damage.

Why Boy Leave the Farm.

Some of our farmers wonder why their sons have a desire to quit the farm, preferring town or city life. The cause is with the farmer himself. With the boy on the farm it is perpetual toll in good weather, all through the busy season, and perpetual loneliness in bad weather and most of the winter season. The time when the farmer has leisure is at the very time when they cannot get away from home on account of their isolation and bad roads. The boy hungers for company and his heart revolts against this unendurable loneliness and to free himself from it, walks miles through the mud to spend an hour at the country store. We are glad to note that in some sections of our country the young people of both sexes, have broken through these barriers, and established farmers' club and little societies, of one sort or another. This should be encouraged and will prove a great tonic to keep young people on the farm and make life to them worth the living.

Public Speaking.

Hon. Thomas H. Duffoy, of Minneapolis, Minn., of national repute and J. W. DeHart, of Louisville, Ky., will address the people of Clay City and vicinity at the school house on Wednesday, April 7th, at 7:30 p. m. sharp. Arrangements will be made for a local man to preside and deliver the opening address.

The subject will be: "The better protection of the home and the uplift of the people."

Ladies and gentlemen are all cordially invited. It will be a rare opportunity to hear a subject of national importance discussed free of cost to every one. Do not miss it.

How the Office Pays.

Powell county could well afford to have a Treasurer if one could be gotten on the terms Clark county gets one. Listen to the report of the contest for Treasurer in Clark county from the Winchester Democrat:

"The contest for County Treasuryship came up before the Fiscal Court Friday. When the bids were opened it was found the People's Bank offered $5,503; the Citizens' National, $13,311; the Clark County National, $24,300, and the Winchester Bank, $2,035, the latter securing the position."

Hits them Hard.

Ollie James, of the First Kentucky district, in his speech in the House of Representatives Monday, hit the framers of the Payne tariff bill hard. He declared that the Government was undertaking to guarantee profits to the manufacturers, but no one had suggested guaranteeing anything to the farmers, physician, the lawyer or the laborer. Mr. James took up a number of the schedules and pointed out the unfairness of the rates. He was liberally cheered when he finished.

Died in Montgomery County.

Mr. John B. Hoskin died at his home in Montgomery county near Mt. Sterling Tuesday, Mar. 23rd, aged 68 years. Mr. Hoskin is a native of this county but moved to Montgomery a number of years ago where he was regarded as one of the county's upright and honorable citizens. He was an uncle of H. H. Hoskin of this city.

Abuse of Credit.

It is the abuse of the credit system that frequently causes trade to drift from the home town to some distant concern. Merchants extend credits to their customers, and when the bill reaches a large figure, the customer avoids the store on his benefactor, and when goods are needed sends the cash to some distant place. This is unfair, yet it is too often the case.

Andy Ledford, who has smallpox is now fast recovering. No other cases have yet developed; the order of vaccination being strictly observed by all persons exposed, and it is hoped that much trouble with the disease will be averted.

J. W. Womack, of Winchester, representing the Modern Woodmen of America, is in the city today.

ARBOR DAY PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Kentucky:

The Governor asks all the people to fix upon Friday, April 2, 1909, as Arbor Day for Kentucky, and hopes that every one who can, will plant at least one tree on that day, and that the people will hold public meetings by school districts, at school houses or other convenient places, to discuss tree planting, preservation of our forests, protection of the birds, school gardens and the work to clean up and make attractive the roads, streets and vacant lots, and to cultivate in all places neatness, order and beauty, to make our homes, our farms, our streets, roads and public squares more beautiful and pleasant, to the end that, as time goes by, all our State will be beautiful and winning, not only to passers-by, but for the joy, comfort, happiness and the mental and moral betterment of ourselves and all our people. Let us plant trees for the future, plant gardens for this year and all years to come and make every public place please the eye and cheer the hearts of all who see them.

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON,
Governor of Kentucky.

Money in Potatoes.

In Woodford county last year McKee Bros. raised sixty acres of potatoes and will this spring plant one hundred and seventy-five acres. They realized handsomely on last year's crop and made them even more money than tobacco at 15 cents per pound. Many other farmers in different parts of the State, also raised potatoes last year in the absence of a tobacco crop and all made money with much less labor than it takes to grow tobacco.

H. G. Burgher, who has been confined to his home for several weeks was able to come up in town Friday for the first time. His numerous friends were very glad to see him able to be out again.

"Uncle" Role Hendrix died at his home in this city Tuesday evening of infirmities of old age. Burial at the Wells grave yard on Hardwick's creek. He is survived by a wife.

The wheat fields of central Kentucky are in fine condition and a good crop is now expected.

Before and After Taking.

Twelve months ago, or immediately after Bradley was elected United States Senator he began a most merciless attack on W. H. Taft then candidate for President. He said if Taft was nominated he would be defeated by Bryan sure. Taft carried the State, and at the State convention Bradley was snubbed and not allowed to go to the National Republican Convention.

Things have changed now, Bradley being given the general distribution of pie in Kentucky, has ceased his mutterings and said in a speech at Washington that Taft would make one of the greatest Presidents that ever occupied the White House.

The Times confesses that Taft is making a much better President than we ever thought possible for him to make being elected as he was, by the influence of moneyed trust, but he has certainly displayed a bit of cowardice in giving to Bradley the power he has given him in order to get a month shut that contains nothing but hot air.

How They Were Bounced.

After the $29,000,000 line of the Standard Oil Company had been set aside and the case thrown out of court for always, John S. Miller, chief counsel for the trust, is reported to have said:

"This is the local end of the flamboyant 'trust-busting' campaign for political purposes that closed with the recent election. The language of the law evidently was made ambiguous purposely by Congress, and I don't think it was intended to be enforced."

Of course Miller is right, everybody can see it now. Trust busting was only a method of fooling the voters just before the election and Congress did not intend that trusts should be punished, and neither did Roosevelt, for that matter. Those who voted the Republican ticket expecting the trusts to be punished have simply been bounced as usual every leap year. But they seem to enjoy being humbugged.

Just How it Works.

In the iron works in Pennsylvania March 4th the price of puddling iron by common labor was reduced from $4.50 to $3.00 per ton. Hundreds of laborers were thus affected.

What a delightful gift to the workers the day of Taft's inauguration. Taft and all the Congressmen and other high salaried fellows had their already too high salaries nearly doubled, and the workers had their wages cut almost in two. But then the rich need an increase and the workers can well afford to pay it out of their abundance. This is why the Pennsylvania workers put up such a great majority for Taft.

The price of iron is high. The steel trust is getting $540 a ton for armor plate from the government that a Senate Committee proved was only costing $67 a ton to produce. That is the reason they have cut wages. The cutting of wages has two sides, one to make millionaires faster, and the second and most important is to keep the workers so poor that they can never become independent.

Some sixty odd years ago, the counties of Carter, Elliott and Grayson issued bonds to assist in building a railroad through their bounds. The promoters of the road sold these bonds got the money and left the road as at the beginning, not a lick of work done. The citizens of these counties have all along resisted the collection of tax to pay this debt, now habs up Governor Willson and says he will send soldiers up there and give force against force and collect the amount of bonds with interest. If the collection of money without value received is robbery, the collection for payment of these bonds is robbery, then what is Governor Willson a party to? Wonder if any of the Democrats and Anti-Saloon League people in those counties the votes of which elected him are still for Augustus E. Willson.

The penitentiary at Frankfort is full and they are still coming faster than ever. One third or over 500 of the convicts confined there are idle, nothing to do at all but pass the hours off in leisure while the state feeds and clothes them. The good times seem to have even reached the penitentiary, when the inmates can live and hot work. Millions outside of the prison walls are doing the same thing but we can't say how well they are living.

Being unable to run the State government on the prevailing revenue, and being unable to increase the tax rate or issue bonds for this purpose until the Legislature meets next winter the Willson administration is forced to raise the taxable property in every county of the State from 10 to 20 per cent. Wonderful isn't it, how we got along and kept out of debt during those good Democratic days, but we did, and lowered the tax rate too.

Tobacco Users Robbed.

Before the increased tax on tobacco for the benefit of the Spanish American war eleven years ago, under the Dingley tariff law, the two ounce package of tobacco sold to the consumer for 5 cents and the four ounce package sold for 10 cents. In 1898 a war revenue tax of 6 cents a pound additional was levied on tobacco, and in order to serve the convenience of the trade, tobacco manufacturers were allowed to correspondingly reduce the size of the package tobacco so it could be still sold for 5 and 10 cents.

In due time the war revenue tax was repealed, but the size of tobacco packages was not changed. According to the figures obtained from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, over 48 billion packages have been sold since the war tax was taken off, and the consumers have since been swindled out of one and two cents on each 5 and 10-cent package they buy.

The Republican party has committed itself to a reduction of the tariff and every member of that party in congress professes to be that way but our own John W. Langley. In discussing this question Monday, Mr. Langley said he was in favor of protection on every thing, and further said he would vote for a tax of $2.00 per gallon on beer. Don't bother John he is only getting up the revenue to build those turnpikes he promised us last fall.

In Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or may be you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is tickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

Have Their Own Way.

Several years ago a number of states in the middle west, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and others, enacted a two-cent fare law. The railroad companies promptly tested its constitutionality by an appeal to the higher courts, since which time the matter has been pending final decision. It was a foregone conclusion that this decision would be in favor of the railroad.

The decision of Judge McPherson of the United States district court, handed down at Kansas City, is therefore not a surprise. It would only have been such if it had sustained the law enacted by the representatives of the people instead of the railroads owned by the capitalists.

Judge McPherson, like all good capitalist judges, has great solicitude for the property of the capitalists. He fears that the two-cent law may reduce profits below the legitimate point, whatever that may be, and hence his decision that the law is confiscatory and therefore null and void.

The representatives of the people (?) who enact laws had better adjourn and go home. They are a useless expense and an unnecessary nuisance. The courts constitute practically the whole thing. What is the use of enacting law if a judge has the power to determine what the law shall be?

It will be observed that this decision followed upon the heels of the decision of Judge Anderson remitting the twenty-nine million dollar fine of the Standard Oil company and dismissing the case against it.

The Taft administration opens auspiciously indeed, and predatory wealth and rich malefactors may now resume operations without being annoyed by the antics of the kettle hill bronco buster. The two-cent decision which restores the three-cent fare is a good one—for the people as well as the railroads. It will increase the dollars of the railroads and the people.—Exchange.

A Noble Legacy.

Miss Mattie D. Todd, of Kentucky, who was recently called to her heavenly mansion, left her estate of some twenty-five thousand dollars to the Society of Soul Winners. This is the handsomest gift we have ever received, and we thank God, and this noble woman for it. It is a treasure laid up in heaven, and will be an untold blessing to thousands of her poor countrymen in the Highlands, who will rise up and call her blessed in that "Great Day Coming." May God multiply the number of such wise and generous people. The estate is left to her aged aunt, Mrs. McIntosh, during her life-time, after which the interest on it is to be used in the work of the Soul Winners among the poor mountaineers. Another devoted Christian woman of New York sent us a thousand dollars to help build a home for the poor mountain or, him boys, which is sadly needed. May God inspire others to follow these noble examples; and share in their reward in heaven, when God dispenses kingdoms and crowns.—The Soul Winner.

The Fruit at Right.

"The nursery men" and fruit growers of this section are unanimous in the opinion that this will be a banner fruit year in Central Kentucky," said a prominent fruit grower. "We have had so much cold weather and chilly snaps so late this year that the sap has not gone well into the buds of the trees as yet, and consequently what cold and frost we may have for the next few weeks will not materially affect the buds later. Peaches and other early fruits have not nearly gotten to the stage yet where they could be affected by a chilling frost, and the peach crop this year should be a very prolific one."

Some folks have rats in their garrets, some have rats in their cellars, and while out a few young ladies have good-sized rats in their

Remarkable Story

The story of Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of Kokomo, Ind., as told below, proves the curative properties of that well-known female remedy, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Warwick says:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

"I suffered from pains in my head, shoulders, limbs, side, stomach low down, dizziness, chills, nervousness, fainting spells and other female troubles. I was almost dead. Three doctors did not help me. At last, I took Cardui, and with the first bottle obtained relief. Now I am cured. But for Cardui, I would have been dead." Try Cardui.
